Questions 21- 25 Read the passage carefully then choose the correct answer.

The loss of the jobs and persistent unemployment in the industrial countries is due mainly to changes in technology. It is thought to be misleading to blame job losses on the shift of corporations from the industrial countries to the Third World.

The present technological developments have been compared to a Third Industrial Revolution. The first coming in the 19th century, was characterized by the steam engine and the use of coal. In the 1920s the second emerged with the use of oil and the electro dynamo. The third, the present one, is driven by computers, biotechnology and information technology.

However, there can be seen weaknesses in the newest of industrial revolutions. The technology is advancing so fast and productivity is rising so fast that we are left with a big problem. Because of the loss in jobs, caused largely by this new, technology, there will not be enough people with money to buy all these products.

Technology as definitely enhanced our standard of living, even our quality of life. But as the capacity to produce expands and the lack of purchasing power and consequent demand diminish, there can be overproduction and recession, and what happens to our standard of living?

21. What is the main point the author is making?

- A. That the industrial countries have more unemployment than the Third World.
- B. That technology is the main cause of unemployment.
- C. That corporations have shifted to the Third World.
- D. That the present situation is like in the Industrial Revolution.

22. Which of the following is not a characteristic of one of the industrial revolutions?

- A. The use of oil
- B. The use of computer
- C. The use of electricity
- D. The use of coal

23. What is stated as being the main weakness of the Third Industrial Revolution?

- A. There will be too few people who can afford to buy things.
- B. There won't be enough products for everyone to buy.
- C. There will not be enough money around.
- D. There will be too many machines in the factories.

24. Why does the author think that there won't be enough people to buy the products?

- A. People will not be able to keep up with technology.
- B. Productivity will not be high enough.
- C. There will be too many products.
- D. Many people will be unemployed.

25. What do we infer from the author's attitude to the technology?

- A. It has improved our purchasing power
- B. It has improved our quality of life.
- C. It has created more jobs.
- D. It is not responsible for the recession.

Questions 46-50 Read the passage carefully then choose the correct answer.

The loss of the jobs and persistent unemployment in the industrial countries is due mainly to changes in technology. It is thought to be misleading to blame job losses on the shift of corporations from the industrial countries to the Third World.

The present technological developments have been compared to a Third Industrial Revolution. The first coming in the 19th century, was characterized by the steam engine and the use of coal. In the 1920s the second emerged with the use of oil and the electro dynamo. The third, the present one, is driven by computers, biotechnology and information technology.

However, there can be seen weaknesses in the newest of industrial revolutions. The technology is advancing so fast and productivity is rising so fast that we are left with a big problem. Because of the loss in jobs, caused largely by this new, technology, there will not be enough people with money to buy all these products.

Technology as definitely enhanced our standard of living, even our quality of life. But as the capacity to produce expands and the lack of purchasing power and consequent demand diminish, there can be overproduction and recession, and what happens to our standard of living?

46. What is the main point the author is making?

- A. That the industrial countries have more unemployment than the Third World.
 B. That technology is the main cause of unemployment.
 C. That corporations have shifted to the Third World.
 D. That the present situation is like in the Industrial Revolution.

47. Which of the following is not a characteristic of one of the industrial revolutions?

- A. The use of oil
 B. The use of computer
 C. The use of electricity
 D. The use of coal

48. What is stated as being the main weakness of the Third Industrial Revolution?

- A. There will be too few people who can afford to buy things.
 B. There won't be enough products for everyone to buy.
 C. There will not be enough money around.
 D. There will be too many machines in the factories.

49. Why does the author think that there won't be enough people to buy the products?

- A. People will not be able to keep up with technology.
 B. Productivity will not be high enough.
 C. There will be too many products.
 D. Many people will be unemployed.

50. What do we infer from the author's attitude to the technology?

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

There are three kinds of goals: short-term, medium-range and long-term goals. Short-range goals are those that usually deal with current activities, which we can apply on a daily basis. Such goals can be achieved in a week or less, or two weeks, or possibly months. It should be remembered that just as a building is no stronger than its foundation, our long-term goals cannot amount to very much without the achievement of solid short-term goals. Upon completing our short-term goals, we should date the occasion and then add new short-term goals that will build on those that have been completed

The intermediate goals build on the foundation of the short-range goals. They might deal with just one term of school or the entire school year, or they could even extend for several years. Any time you move a step at a time, you should never allow yourself to become discouraged or overwhelmed. As you complete each step, you will enforce the belief in your ability to grow and succeed. And as your list of compassion dates grows, your motivation and desire will increase.

Long-range goals may be related to our dreams of the future. They might cover five years or more. Life is not a static thing. We should never allow a long-term goal to limit us or our course of action.

11. Our long-term goals mean a lot

- A. if we complete our short-range goals
- B. if we cannot reach solid short-term goals
- C. if we write down the dates
- D. if we put forward some plans

12. New short-term goals are built upon

- A. two years
- B. long-term goals
- C. current activities
- D. the goals that have been completed

13. When we complete each step of our goals,

- A. we will win final success
- B. we are overwhelmed
- C. we should build up confidence of success
- D. we have strong desire for setting new goals

14. Once our goals are drawn up,

- A. we should stick to them until we complete them
- B. we may change our goals as we have new ideas and opportunities
- C. we'd better wait for the exciting news of success
- D. we have made great decisions

15. It is implied but not stated in the passage that

- A. those who have long-term goals will succeed
- B. writing down the dates may discourage you
- C. the goal is only a guide for us to reach our destination
- D. everyone should have a goal

- Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.
 There are three kinds of goals: short-term, medium-range and long-term goals. Short-range goals are those that usually deal with current activities, which we can apply on a daily basis. Such goals can be achieved in a week or less, or two weeks, or possibly months. It should be remembered that just as a building is no stronger than its foundation, our long-term goals cannot amount to very much without the achievement of solid short-term goals. Upon completing our short-term goals, we should date the occasion and then add new short-term goals that will build on those that have been completed.
 The intermediate goals build on the foundation of the short-range goals. They might deal with just one term of school or the entire school year, or they could even extend for several years. Any time you move a step at a time, you should never allow yourself to become discouraged or overwhelmed. As you complete each step, you will enforce the belief in your ability to grow and succeed. And as your list of compassion dates grows, your motivation and desire will increase.
 Long-range goals may be related to our dreams of the future. They might cover five years or more. Life is not a static thing. We should never allow a long-term goal to limit us or our course of action.
